Promoting Mental Health and Wellbeing in Inclusive, Calmer Classrooms

Tuesday 15th September 2020 from 9am – 3pm

This day looks at how teachers can promote Positive Learning Communities in the classroom by encouraging children to take responsibility for their own behaviour and relationships. An intensely practical day – Jenny will highlight the qualities teachers and children need to develop in order to promote PSHE, SMSC and emotional wellbeing. Jenny is passionate about working with the innate wisdom of children as a powerful forum for change so she will demonstrate a circle-time with a KS1 and a KS2 class with delegates observing and discussing on the impact it can have.

For a school to get the best value for the day Jenny also encourages senior managers to attend so a true whole school positive relationships framework can be put in place.

We have also found a way to get circle-time across the school weekly in each class.....our middays too have embraced your ideas to change playtimes. All commented on your enthusiasm and inspiration.
